

Celebrating Psychological Research

The 2nd Annual Psychological Research Colloquium & Workshop Event

Saturday, March 31 Library, Room 302
10 A.M. – 4 P.M.

10:00-11:50 AM: The Workshop: Join your fellow students for a fun and informative workshop in the morning over coffee, then stay for the Colloquium.

A workshop on the Who/What/When & How's of Psychological Research in your undergraduate/graduate program. This workshop will give students an overview of who (any psychology student who intends to apply for or complete a graduate program) should be doing a research project, what courses you should be taking and when to do your research project and how psychological research will help you get into and complete the graduate program you desire.

Noon: The Research Colloquium & Lunch Join us for lunch, our keynote speaker, Dr. Glen Spielmans, and presentations by current undergraduate and graduate students who will discuss their current research findings.

Call for Papers/Posters: This is a special call for Metropolitan State students undergraduate/graduate submissions. If you have a completed research project or are disseminating your findings for an upcoming conference; such as the Minnesota Undergraduate Psychological Conference, consider presenting at our Colloquium. All requests for presentations or inquiries should be emailed along with an abstract to walterna@metrostate.edu.

Pre-registration is required for attendance and lunch.

For registration please go to the Psychology Club Portal at OrgSync.COM. (Register for OrgSync account, add an organization—Psych Club)
