

“Celebrating Psychological Research at Metro State”
Fifth Annual Psychology Research Colloquium and Workshop
November 21, 2015, Midway Center, Room P

- 11:45 Registration Begins: Sign in with the Psychology Club

- 12:00 Introduction to the Colloquium

- 12:15 – 1:00 Student Research Presentations
 - Megan Siedschlag – “The Role of Sexism in Perceptions of Domestic Violence”
 - Ann Cook – “Preferred Group Modality for Encouraging Client Participation in Detox Facilities”
 - Brittney Rademacher – “From Gaye to Grey: Sexual Behavior and Relationship Satisfaction”

- 1:00 – 1:40 Poster Session– First opportunity to view/discuss posters (see reverse)

- 1:45 – 2:30 Student Research Presentations
 - Katelyn Schwieters -- “Are you plugged in? Development and validation of a plugged in scale”
 - Patrick Curme -- “Predicting Attitudes Toward Gay and Lesbian Prospective Adoptive Parents”
 - Aaron Szczech-Johnson – “Do Beliefs in Conspiracy Lower Political Participation and Voting?”

- 2:30 -- 2:50 Poster Session, Networking, and Social Time
 - Second Viewing of Posters
 - Psychology Club
 - Psychology Lab
 - Center for Psychological Research

- 3:00 Graduate School Roundtable – Presented by Psychology Club
 - Preparing for Graduate School
 - How to write a CV – Help to get you started
 - Writing a personal mission statement
 - Q & A time

The Psychology Research Colloquium and Workshop are sponsored by the Psychology Club, the Behavioral Science Student Association, the Department of Psychology, and the Center for Psychological Research. Conference details are archived at www.centerforpsychologicalresearch.org

Psychology Research Colloquium: Poster Session

November 21, 2015

The poster session is an opportunity to review a large number of research projects in a flexible format. The Posters will be placed around the lobby/foyer and will be staffed by the student researchers. Feel free to explore -- read the posters, listen to students summarize their work, and/or engage in discussions about the projects and ideas for future work.

Student Poster Session (1:00-1:40 and 2:30-2:50)

Molly Holland: “Positive Thinking and Memory”

Anthonie Collins: “Investigating the relationship between isolation and affect”

Masno Abdulaya, Natasha Okorafor, & Elizabeth Shadeko: “Memory for faces under distracting conditions for older and younger adults”

Brittany Bobleter: “Mood and Food Choices: the effect of presentation on selection”

Eugenia Akem: “Investigating the relationship between motivation and frustration”

Cante Walking Elk: “#NotYourIndian”

Lukas Adams: “Investigating the relationship between music and anxiety”

Adrianna Del Real, Mark Zownirowycz, & Jamie Luttrell: “Cultural Transformations in Guatemala: One Fruit Tree at a Time”

Andrea Dunn: “Asking for help and anxiety”

The Psychology Research Colloquium and Graduate School Roundtable are sponsored by the Metro State Psychology Club, the Metropolitan State Psychology Department, and the Center for Psychological Research. Conference details are archived at www.centerforpsychologicalresearch.org